Meet the staff

Heather Henson, Women's Soccer Head Coach Camp Director

In her fourteen years of collegiate coaching she has made an impact on soccer at all levels. Beyond transitioning High Point University from NAIA to Division I and building the ETSU Soccer program to a Soccer Buzz Top 20 Most Improved, she has been active in the Olympic Development program serving as head coach for both North Carolina and currently for Tennessee. In this time she has trained National Team players from both the United States and Iceland. She currently holds an NSCAA Advanced National Diploma and a USSF B license.

Andy Stoots, Women's Soccer Associate Head Coach Associate Camp Director

A native of Bristol, Tenn., Andy is dedicated to helping local players develop. As a player, Andy had a great career at Milligan College, setting and holding many school records. He went on to serve as an assistant coach at Milligan and Troy University before joining the Bucs in the fall of 2004. He oversees all keeper training for ETSU. He has also served as keeper coach for many individual and club programs as well as working with the Tennessee Olympic Development Program. He currently holds an NSCAA Premier Diploma and a USSF D license.

Heather Birdsell, Women's Soccer Assistant Coach

Heather Birdsell became the newest member of the ETSU soccer staff, in the summer of 2008, as a graduate assistant. The Plano, Texas, native comes to the Tri-Cities after a strong playing career at Samford University. She had one of the most decorated careers in Bulldog history, being named a four-time All-OVC member and was a member of the NSCAA All-Southeast Region Third Team in 2005 and the Soccer Buzz Third Team in 2007 and 2005. Also in 2007, she was an honorable mention All-American. Heather serves as a coach in the local club program as well.
