CAMP DIRECTORS

Tony Skole enters his tenth season as the Buccaneer skipper. The Roswell, Georgia, native has brought confidence and respect to the East Tennessee State Baseball Program. A winning attitude, superb graduation rates, excellence in community service and a baseball team that is as close as a family are attributes that reflect on the man who will guide the Buccaneers into their fourth season in the Atlantic Sun Conference. Nationally known for being a great teacher of the fundamentals, Coach Skole and his staff are ensuring that Buccaneer baseball will become one of the nation's top college programs and compete on a national level. "It has been our goal from day one to give ETSU a baseball program that will last, and one that will be worthy of postseason play every year," Skole said. "We want to continue to raise the bar every year."

Clay Greene enters his fourth season as an assistant coach at ETSU. He works primarily with outfielders and team base running, along with assisting head coach Tony Skole with the hitters and coordinating the Bucs recruiting efforts. Reid Casey enters his third season at his alma mater as a Buccaneer assistant coach. A former pitcher for head coach Tony Skole, Casey's primary responsibility is the pitching staff and assisting with recruiting.
